STEEL MAGNATES TO ABOLISH 12 HOUR DAY

HARDING'S REQUEST FOR 8 HOURS AGREED TO IN PRINCIPLE

COMMITTEE OF STEEL MEN WILL BE APPOINTED BY GARY TO INITIATE MOVEMENT

RAIL HEADS MEET PRESIDENT TONIGHT; WILL BE ASKED TO GO LIMIT ON RATE REDUCTION

(By United Press.) Washington, May 19.—The administration has met its initial success in its efforts to bring about better business conditions through a series of conferences here with leaders of the nation's industries.

The leading steel men of the country, after a dinner conference at the White House last night, went on record as agreeing in principle to the abolition of the 12 hour day in the steel industry. A committee of five steel magnates will be appointed by Judge Albert H. Gary to make a thorough investigation of President Harding's request that the working day be cut from 12 to 8 hours.

A general conference of 1,500 coal operators to check profiteering in coal and out of which might come some settlement of the nation-wide coal strike, has been called as the result of Secretary of Commerce Hoover's discussion of recent increases in coal prices with about 50 non-union coal operators yesterday.

Hoover desires to have the operators set up a committee of their own forming an organization somewhat similar to the war time fuel administration, which will keep coal prices down.

The operators, however, have raised objection as to whether such an organization would not violate the anti-trust laws, and Attorney General Daugherty has been asked for an opinion.

Because of the progress made in the steel and coal conferences, administration officials are hopeful of a real result at the dinner of leading railroad heads at the White House tomorrow night. The railroad men will be asked "to go the limit" and agree to as large rate reductions as possible.

The president during the last 24 hours has made it clear that he will insist that labor be fairly treated at the economic readjustment now under way.

PINCHOT VIEWS HIS VICTORY AS A "PEOPLES AWAKENING"

(By United Press.)

Milford, Pa., May 19.—Results of the Pennsylvania election indicates there is to be a "people's awakening" and better government will follow in the belief of Gifford Pinchot, progressive republican, victor in the Keystone state's gubernatorial primary.

Pinchot sees in his triumph over the powerful state organization once bossed by Cameron, Quay and Penrose, unmistakable signs of the approaching "awakening," at least in Pennsylvania.

Back home in Pike county, among his neighbors who welcomed him like a conqueror, Pinchot today was completely surrounded by flashing tackle.

He has just emerged victor from one of the most strenuous political battles of years, in which he accomplished what a few months ago even he himself considered impossible—the defeat of the organization.

BORDER MILLS PAPER WORKERS STRIKE SETTLED

LABOR SIGNS CONTRACT FOR ONE YEAR AT OLD WAGE; 1,000 RETURN TO WORK

International Falls, May 19.—The strike of 1,000 paper mill employees, which affected mills here and in Fort Frances was settled yesterday. The men returned to work immediately.

The strike was called Monday by the International Falls paper mill workers' union, who demanded an increased wage. Because of the strike the International Lumber company was forced to close, as its by-products were used at the paper mills.

The striking employees signed a one year contract to work at the old wage. It was agreed by paper company officials and workers that the minimum wage would be 32 cents an hour for general labor, on a 8-hour day basis. Time and a half will be paid for overtime. Contract labor will receive not less than the minimum wage, according to the agreement.

The agreement affects employees of the Minnesota & Ontario Paper company and Fort Frances Pulp & Paper company.

VOLSTEAD ISSUES CHALLENGE TO WETS

SAYS ANY ATTEMPT TO WEAKEN LAW WILL BE BEATEN DOWN

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 19.—Any attempt in congress to weaken the Volstead act to permit the manufacture of beer and wines "will be battered down and beaten," Representative Andrew Volstead, of Minnesota, author of prohibition, declared to the United Press today.

Volstead challenged the liberals in the house to do "their worst" in their campaign to give local option on the wet-dry issue to the different congressional districts.

The dry leader will take an active part in the coming congressional campaign on the side of prohibition. He is planning to circulate a large number of pamphlets attacking the supporters of strict prohibition enforcement, and probably will make many speeches.

An out and out campaign to inject the wet and dry issue into this coming congressional election is made by Representative Hill, of Maryland, and other republican "liberals" in the house. They are now circulating petitions by which they hope to force a vote in congress on the bill, giving congressional districts the right to say whether they shall have the wine and 2.75 per cent beer for home use only, and to be taxed 20c per gallon.

GENOA CONFERENCE CAME TO AN END THIS AFTERNOON

ALL POWERS FORMALLY ACCEPTED THE NON-AGGRESSION PACT

THIS PROVIDES FOR A TEMPORARY TRUCE ON BASIS OF PRESENT BOUNDARIES

(By HENRY WOOD)

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) Genoa, May 19.—The powers at Genoa at a final plenary session of the economic conference, today assented to Lloyd George's proposed temporary truce for Europe, and the near east.

Representatives of 29 nations met at St. George's palace to complete the work of the parley, formally accepting the non-aggression pact.

Premier Facta of Italy signed the document containing the truce agreement, and by this act each nation represented at the closing session was understood to have given assent.

The plenary session adjourned at 1:10 p. m., bringing the conference formally to an end.

The final plenary session adopted the final report of the economic commission of the conference.

This report was the first business before the session which Premier Facta called to order shortly after 9 o'clock. M. Colrat of the French delegation presented the report.

Signor Rossi of the Italian delegation, Walter Rathenau of the German and George Tchitcherlin of the Russian delegation, leaders, spoke.

The Russian indicated his objection to the commission's findings as did Rathenau, but the plenary session approved the report.

Then came the moment when the Genoa conference put a seal upon its most important accomplishment.

Premier Facta called for the report of the political sub-commission, fourth of the conference to be adopted. Foreign Minister Schanzer read the document agreed to by the nations represented on the political commission. It was in six parts and contained the plan for a meeting at The Hague and the conditions of the non-aggression truce.

After the terms had been read, Facta called the roll, and the heads of each delegation rose and signified the assent of his nation to the truce.

Conference Will Prove an Inspiration

Genoa, May 19.—"This conference will prove as an ever inspiring landmark on the pathway to peace," Lloyd George declared today in his speech at the last plenary session of the conference.

The British premier described the Genoa gathering as one of the most remarkable conferences in history. He admitted the conference had not progressed as fast as the most sanguine had expected.

Regarding the temporary truce pact he said it was only a provisional measure, but that once it was established, no nation would go back on it.

"The psychological effect upon the peoples of the world will be electrical. Thrills of peace have gone through the nations."

Referring to the Russians, Lloyd George said:

"When you have lent a man money and he asks you for more, you ask him whether he intends to pay his old debt. If he replies that it is a matter of principle with him not to pay his debts, you are not likely to lend him again."

"If Russia is ready to receive help, she must not outrage the sentiments of the world."

Lloyd George Leaves Genoa
Genoa, May 19.—Lloyd George and a large part of the British delegation left Genoa at 4:30 this afternoon on a special train bound for London by way of Paris and Calais.

"KILTIES" PLAY TO PACKED HOUSES

Great Concert Organization Scores Tremendous Hit at New Park Theatre on Thursday

EXCELLENT PROGRAM GIVEN

In Closing, the Band Was Recalled Four Times, Something Unusual For Brainerd

Playing to packed houses, matinee and night, the Kilties won the hearts of their large audiences at the New Park theatre on Thursday. In spite of inclement weather, all Brainerd attended the concerts. And talk about Scotchmen and people of Scotch descent. They came from a radius of 50 miles to hear the Kilties.

The first number was "The Culver Black Horse March", composed by William G. McIntosh, leader of the Kilties. When you hear a composer conducting his own music, handling the baton over a band which responds to every mood instantaneously, you get some idea of real music.

The overture "William Tell" was splendidly rendered.

"Wee Jamie Clark", the only bag piper in the world that can play in tune with a brass band, gave such melodies as "Blood is Thicker Than Water", "McKenzie Highlanders", etc. An odd bit was the "Blue Bells of Scotland" played on chimes with the band playing a syncopated melody.

Russell Lloyd, in songs of Harry Lauder, had this repertoire, "Roamin' in the Gloamin'", "The Wiggle Waggle O'er the Kilt", "She's Ma Daisy", "I Love to be a Sailor".

Old Home Melodies, arranged by Rossini which includes the baritone solo from Verdi's opera played by Ivan Arnold and the old familiar tune that went home last night, "The Intermezzo" from "Cavalleria Rusticana", all made the greatest hits with the audience.

Then again came "Wee Jamie Clark" in his Highland fling. Was he welcome? Yes. He captivated them. For four calls.

The next number "Roll 'Em Up" by Alfred, played only as Walter McRoberts can play. His smiles were more noticeable than his sticks, but you could not keep still as long as he kept playing with those sticks.

The closing number "The Battle of Chateau Thierry", dedicated to the American troops, and played by a Canadian band!

This was the feature number. All the effects of a regular battle, played with the life and vim as only old service men can play.

The majority of the members of the Kilties are ex-service men, have seen not only the World War but other wars. You can readily imagine, if you did not hear this number, what you have missed.

In closing, the band was recalled four times, something unusual for Brainerd. Clyde E. Parker and A. V. Force of the New Park theatre are to be commended for securing such an admirable attraction and it can safely be said that if the Kilties come again, they will have to make it a two days stay instead of just one day.

LITTLE, BUT VERY PRACTICAL

Occasionally the Small People Have Exceedingly Comprehensive Ideas About Things Mundane.

"What a splendid big boy!" said a lady visitor, addressing the small son of a distinguished novelist, whom she found deep in an illustrated fairy tale. "And you can spell out what it says under the pictures, can't you, dear? Why, it won't be long before you'll enjoy the stories your papa writes as much as any one!"

The little fellow regarded her gravely. "The stories papa writes aren't meant to enjoy," he explained. "That's the stories he tells. The stories he writes are just to pay the butcher and the grocer!"

The caller was naturally quite shocked at the child's literal and mercenary acceptance of her favorite author's jocular way of referring—within the family circle—to his literary labors.

Many years ago a somewhat similar anecdote was related by the poet Bryant of his little daughter Julia. A neighbor, shown into the library where the little maiden sat solitary upon the floor, with a huge volume of Milton, with Dore's illustrations spread open before her, inquired pleasantly, by way of greeting:

"Reading poetry, already, little girl?" Little Julia corrected her politely, but with authority:

"People don't read poetry. Papas write poetry and mamma's sing poetry, and little girls learn to say poetry, but nobody reads poetry. That isn't what it's for!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

They get lazy quite often—your Bowels—But HOLLISTER'S GOLDEN NUGGET TABLETS will wake 'em up and make 'em hustle. H. P. Dunn.

Principal Figures in California Klu Klux Mystery

Recently a mob of 200 masked men rushed the little ranch house of Fidel E. duayen, in Inglewood, Cal., and carried off Fidel and his son Matias (1) to a spot six miles away. Part of the mob remained and forced Mrs. E. duayen and her young daughter Mary

(2) to dress in their presence. A bystander phoned to Town Marshal Frank Woerner, who was attacked by the mob and he opened fire, killing one man and wounding two others. When unmasked, it was found that the dead man was an officer of the law himself, Town Constable Medford B. Mosher (3). Leaders of the Ku Klux Klan in southern California were questioned at the inquest. Among them W. G. Price, King Kleagle of the Ku Klux Klan, on the Pacific coast (4).

IN STREET SUITS

Coats Differ in Color and Texture From Skirts.

One Coat and Several Skirts to Be Worn With It Will Afford Pleasing Variety.

Any number of the new suits are showing coats that differ in color and even in texture from the skirts that go with them.

The skirts are plaited or plain, but they are usually of a darker tone than the coat. For instance, there will be a short, loose, boxed jacket of pale gray kasha cloth that will be worn with a skirt of very dark gray cloth of the same variety. Then the little coat, which is made without a lining, will be bound with a silk braid exactly matching the gray of the skirt.

A very nifty little suit had a dark blue broadcloth jacket which was bound with white silk braid for a nish and worn with a skirt of plaited white flannel. Now, there is nothing more effective than the brilliancy of dark blue against white, and any woman who wishes to have an interesting suit for summer time wear will delight in one that is composed of these two colors.

A black jersey cloth is worn with a skirt made of black and white plaid fabric. A tan coat is worn with a striped tan and blue skirt. A dark green broadcloth coat is worn with a shade lighter of green heavy crepe silk.

So, if you are a girl who likes to wear a suit, then this is the way to do it this season. You can get a good deal of variety by having one coat and several skirts to be worn with it, as your mood changes or as the duties of your day merge from one into the other.

THE SIMPLE AND TRIM SUIT

Gray twill, ornamented with self-colored hand embroidery, and neat tailoring contribute to the trimness and distinction of this suit.

DRESS HAIR TO SUIT FACE

Careful Study Necessary to Make Milady's Tresses Offset Defects That Are Noticeable.

The way hair is dressed can either make a plain face attractive or it can ruin natural beauty.

If you have a large, protruding nose you will have to balance its size by a fairly large, loose knot at the back of the head.

If you have a small nose you will have to place the knot high on the back of the head.

If you have a large nose and a nicely rounded head you can draw the hair down to the knot on the nape of the neck.

If the line of the back of the head is flat you must build it out by putting a knot of hair back there, no matter what shape the nose may be.

If you have hollow cheeks bring the hair out over the ears and part of the cheeks. This softens and makes the face seem rounder.

If your face is long bring the hair down over the forehead almost to the eyes. If your face is short and round show all off the forehead. If the forehead is broad.

ORIENTAL NOTE IN FASHIONS

Chinese and Russian Influence Found in Various Garments That Appeal to Women.

The Chinese mandarin—low waist, long, straight bodice, rounded neck line with notch at the center, and held together by narrow straps.

The Russian influence is interpreted chiefly in long, Russian blouse effects with belt at a low waist, and with closing from the side of the shoulder to the lower edge of the garment.

The oriental influence is seen in the heavy rolled and padded girdles placed at the hips, and in the slim, snug, flat bodices and long full skirts.

In all these styles—Chinese, Russian or Oriental—the long, slim silhouette is featured.

Turpentine the Pine.

Successive seasons of turpentine cause no lowering in strength or resin content of pine trees, states the forest products laboratory of Wisconsin. The crude turpentine, says the Scientific American, is the result of wound stimulus, and comes only from living cells in the sap wood region of the tap bore. The heart wood, which consists of dead cells, contains no sap.

Insist upon Kellogg's the original Corn Flakes —they're wonderful

"Say, Maize, I hope we don't have any bites while we're eating Kellogg's Corn Flakes, 'cause I like Kellogg's so much that the fish will get away!"

Kellogg flavor and Kellogg crispness are so different that there can be no comparison between Kellogg's Corn Flakes and imitations.

Little folks quickly say, "Get Kellogg's, Mother—please," because Kellogg's are never tough or leathery or hard to eat! Kellogg's are always so delicious that big bows quickly disappear and eager little mouths appeal for more! And big folks appreciate the superiority of Kellogg's because their flavor is so inviting.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

ONE of the important tasks now being performed by our federal government, of which little has been said in the public press, is that of teaching men and women how to earn a living. The Federal Board for Vocational Education is the agency charged with this duty, and its student body comprises 305,224 part time and continuation school pupils, scattered through each of the 48 states.

For many years educators have experimented with industrial instruction. The entrance of the government into this field through the legislation of 1917 has definitely established industrial education as an integral part of our school system. Through annual grants, apportioned through the federal board among the states, vocational education is now taking on a momentum even beyond the hopes of its pioneers. These grants for the current year equal $4,120,832. As every state or local board is required to match the federal grant on a fifty-fifty basis, the total expended on public vocational education for the current year is more than double this figure.

The state vocational boards, which are organized in each state to cooperate with the federal board, look after the direct work of instruction. The function of the federal board is supervisory. To coordinate and standardize the vocational schools in each state, minimum requirements are laid down by the federal board as a condition for the receipt of funds. Frequent conferences are held by the board, in which practical problems are discussed. Research work is carried on by the federal staff, and bulletins and trade surveys are published.

"QUITE ENOUGH ALREADY"

THE FENDING bill in Congress calling for an additional government tax on automobiles provides for a registration number to be stamped on the body and engine of every car, to serve as a means of identification in case of theft. That is simply a very poor excuse for an additional tax, as it is entirely unnecessary. Every car is branded now, on body and engine, by the makers, with an identification number. "Why add another?" the newspapers are asking.

The Little Falls Transcript declares that "More drastic action against the thieves would be more to the point," and answers the question we have quoted as follows:

"The real purpose back of the bill may be rather the collection of the branding fee by the government, as a means of revenue. The establishment of federal licensing would introduce federal taxation of motor cars. Automobile associations insist that the cars are taxed quite enough already, what with the war tax paid on purchase, the personal property tax and the annual license fee paid to the state."

ST. CLOUD WILL RETAIN CONGRESSMAN

THERE will be no contest in the primaries over Congressional candidates in this district. James Mitchell, of Stearns county, who filed as a Democrat, has withdrawn. The candidates who have filed so far have no opposition in their respective parties and will go on the election ballot without having to go through a primary contest. All are residents of St. Cloud, viz: Harold Knutsen, Republican, the present congressman; P. J. Seberger, Democrat; and John Knutsen, Independent.

The St. Cloud Journal-Press says of the candidates, "all are residents of St. Cloud, which goodly city will continue to have the Congressman, and his front name is Harold." However, there is time enough for other candidates to appear.

Now that Brainerd has a new traffic ordinance, the city council should have it printed and copies furnished every auto owner or driver in the city and vicinity, in order that they may familiarize themselves with its provisions.

THE ANTI-FUTURES GRAIN LAW

MINNESOTA'S anti-futures grain act will go into effect at the grain markets in the state on June 1. An appeal made by the Duluth Board of Trade and the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce was dismissed, and no opposition by the grain men to the rules and regulations is now anticipated by the Railroad and Warehouse Commission.

The object sought by the new law is to prevent grain gambling without interfering with legitimate hedging operations, a line of distinction, it is asserted, which no other regulations have contemplated. The law requires reports on each grain sale with name of buyer and seller and quantity of grain. Possession or potential possession of the actual grain on which hedging sales are permitted are required and actual delivery of the grain must be intended.

WOODROW WILSON, remarks a West Virginia paper, thinks he sees a drift back toward his "ideals." However, when it comes to drifting, there is no limit to how slow the drift can be moving.

LAND CLEARING DEMONSTRATION GIVEN AT REMER

(By United Press.)
Remer, Minn., May 19.—Land clearing while you wait was demonstrated to Cass county farmers here Thursday. The University farm land clearing crow started to work on an acre of stump covered ground on the farm of Herman Sjoblom at 1 o'clock, and three hours later the ground was ready for seeding.

The old stumps had been dynamited, the ground cleared, plowed, thoroughly disked, and was ready for the grain drill.

Another Cass county demonstration will be given at Walker tomorrow.

Attention Flappers!—All You Need is a Little Court Plaster and Old Sol's Rays Then You Have the Latest Sunkissed Back

Out in California the flappers have invented a new fad, sunkissed backs, initiated by the sun's rays. Before you get your coat of tan, stick some court plaster cut into your initials on your back and then sit on the beach. When you get a nice brown coat strip off the plaster and you have your monogram in nature's own colors.

WATER & LIGHT BOARD COMMENTS

The Water & Light Board has had a pamphlet printed in which it sets forth the purposes of the proposed amendment and bond issue to be voted upon May 25th. These pamphlets will be distributed to every consumer of water and light and all are urged to read it carefully. Beginning with the issue of the Dispatch for the 15th instant, we reprint a portion daily to make sure that all will study and learn. Special meetings will be conducted in different places about town where these questions can be discussed.

Reason No. 5. It Will Lower the Rates for Water

The Water & Light Board is not trying to get a single penny more for its department than it has received in the past. What it is trying to accomplish is to bring about an adjustment of the costs and rates of the different services rendered. The Board obtains money from two sources—taxation and meter rates. The Board has nothing to say about what it is given by taxation; it takes whatever you vote to give it. But if you do not give it enough revenue for the service it render, it must make up the difference by getting the revenue from metered customers. Fire protection is a service rendered to the property owner, and unless you make property pay for this service, the cost of the service will be paid by the private consumers. You can not reduce the cost of that service; what you can do is to put cost upon the proper party.

The money raised by taxation is to pay for fire service rendered. You pay the Board now $4.095, and if you vote the Bonds to build to West Brainerd and Northeast Brainerd, at the prevailing rates per hydrant these extensions will add at least $450 to the rental. You should pay $12,000 per year. If you do not pay the Board what the service is worth, the Board must keep the meter rates up. If you pay the $12,000, the Board can reduce the present minimum rate on water from $1.00 to 75c and metered consumers will surely gain 5c and very likely 10c per 1,000 gallons, that is, make a rate between 40 to 45c. The Board does not retain the increase gained from the 6 mills; it does not need the money. You should have it. Whether you actually get it depends on how you will vote. If the vote is favorable, the Board can promise the reduction of 25c on the minimum rate, but not until the levy is made and the money received can a statement be made of the exact amount of the reduction in the meter rate. That will transpire after January, 1923. The reduction should be between 5c and 10c.

BROTHERS IN COMMON CAUSE

Matter of Rank of No Consequence in Belgians' War on the Hated Invader.

When Brussels was under the yoke of the invaders a notable Belgian one day went to the convent of the Jesuits and asked secretly if it were not possible to get a letter forwarded to his son, a defender of the Yser.

"That's extremely difficult," they told him. "We are spied upon. The Germans are more vigilant than ever. Still, we'll see."

A few days later the father of the soldier saw a workman coming to his house.

"I am sent by the Jesuits," he said to him. "I'll try to cross the lines. Give me your letter."

"Here it is. Take this for your trouble, and let's go to the cafe and drink to the success of your mission." "With pleasure."

A week later the workman came again. He brought the soldier's reply. Delighted, the Belgian kissed him, and the two again went to the cafe to drink, this time to victory. After which the Belgian hastened to the Jesuit Fathers to thank them.

"I'd like to see the superior," he said.

"The superior? Why, he was in your house this morning."

"This morning?"

"Yes, this morning. He was the workman who carried your letter to Furness.—New York Tribune.

Restoring Ypres.

The ruined city of Ypres is being completely restored at a pace astounding to the hordes of American visitors who have passed that way bound for the south of France and the Algerian and Egyptian resorts. The Cloth Hall, that marvelous building of the age of guilds, is gradually assuming the light and delicate beauty which has made it rank with the loveliest of the medieval halls. But many of the Americans who have dropped by Ypres have been highly amused by the mayor's proclamation, in French and Flemish and then translated into only one foreign tongue, English, to the effect that the visitor or piece of gravel must not be removed, since all will again be gathered together in the rehabilitated structures.

Conway Tearle at Lyceum

Outcasts from the four corners of the globe are the characters in "Buckling the Tiger" which comes to the Lyceum theatre Friday only. The scene is the wild snowbound wastes of the far north where man takes the law into his own hands unhampered by the red tape of legal procedures.

Conway Tearle as MacDonald, the wayward and disgraced son of wealthy parents, driven from home in dishonor, has a role which contains wonderful possibilities for the demonstration of his subtle emotionalism. The supporting cast with Winifred Westover as leading woman to the star, contains many well known names.

Positively Side-Splitting. The epidemic is not without its humorous side. Instead of going to church, staid elderly men were seen rushing for doctors and medicine. Glasgow Paper.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

The editor of this "colyum" doesn't usually praise up any kind of medicine, but perceiving the amount of goiter in town and knowing this section is in what doctors term the goiter belt because we are so far removed from the coast where more fish and shell foods are used, we prevailed upon Col. C. D. Johnson to get some "Nu-Salt". This salt is an iodized table and cooking salt. It contains calcium, potassium and phosphorus and a percentage of sodium iodide. When used on the table and for cooking, it supplements a diet deficient in iodine. As stated by Dr. Herschberger at the medical convention in the Twin Cities, it is this salt or salt similarly treated which will do much to combat the wave of goiter.

A BRAW NIGHT THURSDAY NIGHT!

The Kilties Assist to Make Merry at the Elks Regular Meeting and Shine as Entertainers.

"WEE JAMIE CLARK", THE PIPER.
Social Session Enlivened Further by Boxing Exhibition, Songs, Talks—Class of 12 Antlered

It was a braw night on Thursday night at the Elks lodge. Hoot moan! The Kilties were there with "Wee Jamie Clark" sounding the pipes. W. G. McIntosh, leader, dancing and talking, Russell Lloyd a-singing his way into your heart, plus the drummer boy and all the rest of the laddies.

The procession which captured the social session was led by W. R. Hillier who 22 years ago was with the Kilties and played clarinet. He and Jamie Clark had not seen each other since the big world's tour. Clad in full regimentals, the Kilties made an imposing appearance.

"Wee Jamie Clark" was in constant demand and soon had the whole lodge dancing. Col. C. D. Johnson presided at the social session and also danced a Highland fling. Staid old times who had not unlimbered a foot in ages got as busy as lumberjacks at a logdown.

Addresses were made by a score of visiting Elks, the Kilties and local men. Kid Burbank of Little Falls, weight 138 pounds, and Pi Grant of Brainerd, weight 135 pounds, gave an interesting boxing exhibition. There were songs by the quartet, by soloists and the company in general.

A dozen of candidates were initiated, the work being put on in fine shape under the direction of Exalted Ruler J. J. Nolan. And at the finish the company sang "Auld Lang Syne" with such gusto that Bobby Burns must have heard it.

The house and social committee under the direction of Clyde E. Parker set out a wonderful lunch of sandwiches, beans, salad, coffee and pie a la mode, plus near beer and cigars.

Range members broached the subject of the annual Elks picnic being held on the range and a committee of five was named to assist the house and social committee in its preparations. It is expected to consolidate "Flag Day" with the picnic, as was done last year.

J. P. Anderson of Crosby said the picnic would serve as an exploratory tour for Elks and their ladies. The range men would furnish transportation and take the picnickers down into the pit mines and also give them a ride down the skips to see the inner workings of the underground mines. Dancing can take place in the Crosby armory and Iron-ton village hall. There were boats and launches galore, bathing in plenty and other amusements. The committee will take all these suggestions under consideration and decide upon date, location, arrangements, etc.

The Elks home talent vodvil show set for Crosby was by common consent postponed to next fall. It was hard to get the talent together when there were so many outside attractions ranging from golfing to motor-ing, fishing, etc.

It wasn't until the "wee sma" hours of the morning that the assemblage dispersed. A movement was started to get the Kilties to stay over, play another concert and in the afternoon go fishing for pike at Mille Lacs lake.

to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur of abundance.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Man of Stone"

The New Park theatre is scheduled to show the big Selznick spectacle "The Man of Stone," starring Conway Tearle for two days, beginning today. Always good, Selznick's productions have never surpassed this romantic tale of the Arabian desert in wealth of local coloring, atmosphere, spectacular effects and consummate acting on the part of Mr. Tearle, in the title role, and Miss Betty Howe and Miss Martha Mansfield supporting him.

The story deals with the love affairs of Capt. Neville Deering, D. C., British Army, and takes the action to British Arabia, where love and war are almost inextricably involved. In fact, the incident of war is admirably employed to solve the problem of love.

"Wife Against Wife"

When one wife sets out to bring about the ruin of another an interesting chain of events may be expected.

And these events do take place in the fascinating photodrama, "Wife Against Wife," which is the first National attraction at the New Park Sunday only.

Pauline Starke, portraying the leading role, runs the gamut of human emotions as a little French model, who is made the victim of the jealousy and suspicion of the wife of an American artist.

Whole Town Wants to Act

It was gala week in Saugettes, a town up the Hudson river in New York state when Alice Calhoun and her company arrived to make scenes for "Peggy Puts It Over," the Vitagraph production which will be shown at the New Park on Monday and Tuesday. Although this town has been the scene of several pictures, the coming of a film company is always hailed with great delight.

The natives feel that they are film players, for they often appear in scenes of popular productions. Never, however, has a film furnished such ample opportunities for the inhabitants of the town to act as did "Peggy Puts It Over."

Terry's Big Uncle Tom's Cabin Coming

Announcement is made of the coming of the old favorite and much talked of play, Uncle Tom's Cabin. Many amusement enterprises have grown from small companies to two and three car shows, the Terry company being one that is found in this class, having started twenty-eight years ago with a small troupe of ten people gradually augmenting their attraction until now they are carrying fifty people and traveling in their own Pullman cars. Their great success being due to the fact that the shows' management has always had the energy, push and honest business dealings, in presenting its mammoth Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. From the day of their beginning with small things, they have mounted upwards until now they stand at the top without competitors, and now Terry's Uncle Tom's Cabin is the household word in many states. The teachers in the schools, the preachers from their pulpits, the lecturer from his platform, fathers and mothers each and everyone encourage the attendance to the world's greatest slave drama, that Harriet Ward Beecher Stowe wrote on the colored race. The Terry Company presents this national drama in its entirety.

Special attention has been given to the bands and orchestra this season. Nothing but the highest class musicians being engaged for the company. Terry's concert bands will give one concert on the main street at 7:30 p. m., big street parade at 12 o'clock noon on the day of their appearance, Friday, June 2. Remember Terry's Uncle Tom's Cabin will show one night only at Brainerd.

Miss Dupont at Lyceum Tonight

"Tied to a blind man by a rope!"

These cynical words of the "other man" in "False Klasses" the Universal special attraction which brings Miss du Pont star of "Foolish Wives" to the Lyceum theatre tonight only, aroused all the fire of protest in the soul of the pretty, but worn little woman who was the lighthouse keeper's wife. It brought forth the latent force for evil that is in everyone, no man's wife excepted.

After this "friend", who also was the employer of the blind keeper, had departed from the lighthouse, the feeling about you and Jim while he husband said, "I had the strangest was here."

Highly dramatic scenes depict the shock to the blind man, when recovering his physical sight, he also tears away the veil that has held from him the true facts about his wife and his friend. The "triangle" situation was never the mode of a more powerful expose of the human faults and virtues of married life.

PUZZLES MEN OF LEARNING

Whether Petrified Sole of Shoe Is a Fossil or Freak of Nature, Is Question.

What appears to be the petrified sole of a carefully made shoe has been submitted by John T. Reid, a mining engineer of Lovelock, Nev., to Dr. James F. Kemp, professor of geology at Columbia university, and to Dr. William D. Matthew, paleontologist of the American Museum of Natural History.

If it is what it looks like, it is proof that human beings were walking about in shoes of finer workmanship than are made today on this continent, between 10,000,000 and 300,000,000 years ago, the New York Times states. The seeming fossil was found in blue limestone of the Triassic period on a summit in the southern extremity of the Humboldt mountain range in Nevada.

Both Doctor Matthew and Doctor Kemp said that the object was the most surprising imitation by nature of the workmanship of man which had ever come to their attention, but that it was absolutely impossible that it could be a genuine fossil because the evidence was overwhelming that the career of human beings on earth was not over half a million years, whereas the Triassic rock of which the neatly sculptured sole is made more ancient.

It would fit nicely a boy of ten or twelve years. The edges are as smooth as if freshly cut. But the surprising part of it is what seems to be a double line of stitches, one near the outside edge of the sole and the other about a third of an inch inside the first. The "leather" is thicker inside the inner welting and appears to be slightly beveled so that at the margin, half an inch wide, which runs outside, the sole is something like an eighth of an inch thick.

The symmetry is maintained perfectly throughout. The perfect lines pursued by the welting and the appearance of hundreds of minute holes through which the sole was sewed to the shoe are the things which make the object such an extraordinary freak in the eyes of the scientists who examined it.

SPECIAL DAINTIES FOR LENT

How Rigors of the Season of Fasting Were Alleviated in the "Good Old Days."

Our ancestors were in the habit of observing Lent with such strictness that they promoted the fish industry almost as greatly as they did their own spiritual welfare. But their religious zeal did not altogether discourage their epicurean taste, and certain particularly palatable ways of preparing fish became great delicacies.

Herring pie tickled the fancy even of royalty. The city of Yarmouth, England, was bound, by an ancient charter, to make the king an annual present of 100 herrings baked in 24 pies, and certain gentlemen in the reign of Edward I held their land by tenure of supplying these same dainties for the royal table. Lampreys were also a favorite Lenten dish. These became so popular that they formed the subject of various royal edicts, and decrees, and the city of Gloucester gained great renown through the excellence of its prepared lamprey product. The whale, the porpoise, the grampus and the sea-wolf, while not exactly fish, were considered fishy enough to be suitable for Lenten consumption, and great prices were paid for especially toothsome morsels of these animals.

How It Happened.

Frank and Paul are playmates. Paul is one year older than Frank, and, accordingly, is in an advanced class at school. Frank's father is constantly urging him to study with greater energy that he may come up with Paul. The other day Frank came home from school, his face radiant with smiles.

He exclaimed: "Papa! Papa! I am up with Paul!"

"Good, my son," said his father, "in what class are you now?"

"Oh, I am in the same class," replied Frank.

"But I thought you said you were up with Paul?"

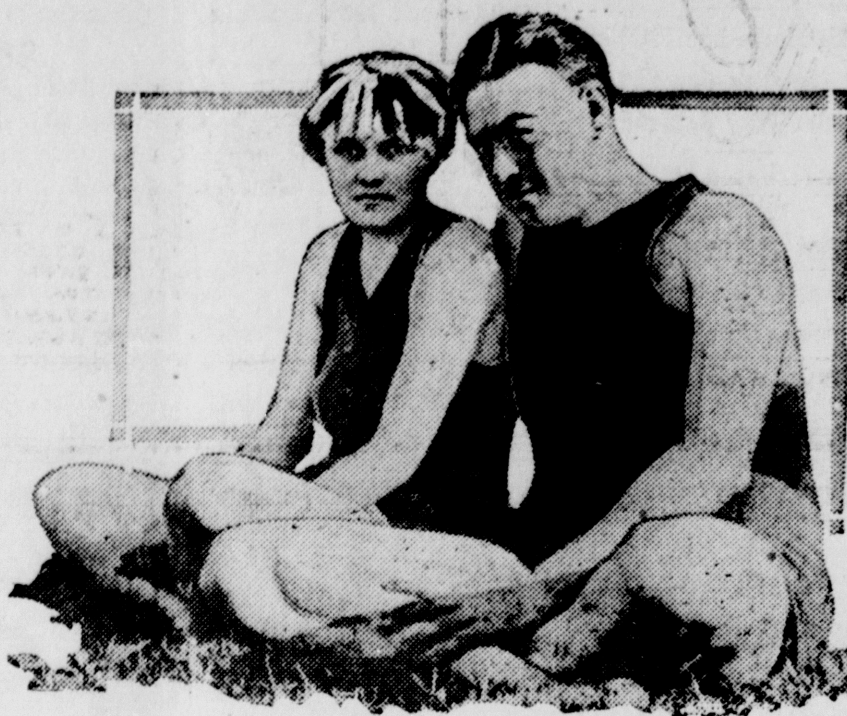

"Well, I am. They put Paul back."

Standard of Measurement.

In 1880 twenty nations decided to take their standard of length from a platinum scale; now France, the jealous guardian of this piece of metal, is alarmed to find that it has lengthened by a demimicron, or five-millionths of a metre, says the Scientific American. The only explanation available is that the annual cleaning of the bar may have been responsible for displacing the platinum molecules. It will be carefully watched for the next ten years and the cleaning may have to be abandoned.
